Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We have heard a lot about this generation being the softest in American history. In fact allusion has been made to this topic in this column. Gradually, along with others, we have revised our views. Events in the war, battles at sea, on land and in the air, force a revision. No one in this generation is a son of a pioneer, a word used in the striot sense of meeting and besting the forces of nature barehanded. But the tough fibre begins to show that instinctively, perhaps, our sons, and daughters, still have a firm hold of the old Yankee traditions, spirit, courage and resourcefulness.

There was nothing soft about American boys on Corregidor and Bataan, nor in the Coral Sea or Midway battles. Pearl Harbor, where they were surprised and nearly 3,000 slaughtered, developed many a hero whose name could well be amblazoned on this country's war banners. No, our army has sterner stuff in it than many of us suspected. When life in the United States was mostly agricultural and to survive meant the wresting of a living from the soil, without much aid from machines, a certain physical hardness resulted, which this generation, two thirds of whom are city bred, does not possess. But our young men can regain it, speedily, as has been proved, and so far as things of the spirit are concerned they rate with the finest ever born under the Stars and Stripes.

If we elders who sit at home and comment wonderingly upon, and with profound feeling for the exploits of our youth who are fighting this war because we blundered when they were babies, or unborn, will this time take thought and earnestly endeavor to shape our national policies so that this nation may assume its share of responsibility in world affairs, perhaps a great good may flow from this universal war.

We have been swayed in past years by antipathies and prejudices. We have a national distrust of British foreign policy and we lacked the imagination and strength to inaugurate a bold yet friendly foreign policy of our own in our relations with other nations. We placated Japan when we should have courageously declined to be in any way an accomplice in its horrible invasion of China. When Sir John Simon refused to cooperate with us, at the time Japan overran Manchuria, we as one of the signatories of the treaty which the Japs then violated, should have interposed and forced Japan to keep its treaty, or amend it by the processes available under terms of the treaty itself. But our people stood rather in awe of the British lion. We wanted no trouble in the Pacific. These are two instances of national dereliction.

Will we have this time learned the lesson? There is a prospect that we will spend something like two hundred billion dollars to provide the means to win this war. When we have won it we shall have the most powerful military force on our hands ever assembled on this planet. What will we do with it? Not force our will upon the rest of the world. Of course not. But let us insist on an orderly world, governed by laws which each free nation shall have a part in enacting. Let us insist that the Chinese shall have the same freedom which we demand, and which we had already proffered the Philippines. Let us insist that our associates in the war, the British, the Dutch, and the Belgians shall grant whatever measure of freedom to India, the East Indies and the Congo colonies, respectively, is best suited to the people, and let us do our share in judging what these people must have.

Then we can contribute armies, navies and air squardons to a mighty police force, and demand that those who feel themselves abused bring their complaints into an international court of law for adjudication. We shall have the power to police and supervise the peoples of the Axis, the wealth to assist them to a better way of life, to feed and clothe, and ultimately bring them into the community of free nations. It will be a long hard road, but it will be far less costly in blood and cash, than the isolationist course we have followed in the past.

Car Floor Mats To Help Floor Japs

The success of the Nevada County rubber drive was due in a large measure to the willingness of residents of Nevada County to sacrifice articles which were still useful. "A rubber floor mat from your automobile would help floor Hirohito," the Nevada County rubber committee announced and floor mats poured in by the dozens. Such was the patriotism exhibited. Probably no other man in the county realized the importance of giving up every possible bit of rubber more than Wesley Donnenwirth, chairman of the Nevada County Rubber Drive Committee. Shown in the above picture is Donnenwirth sacrificing his rubber floor mat while Adele Blackwell, Nevada City High School graduate, looks on with admiration for the patriotic gesture. Yreka Beats Nevada City In Rubber Drive Contest

Nevada City failed in its efforts to beat Yreka in a contest to determine which city could obtain the most rubber but the amount gathered here, 140,000 pounds, helped Nevada County go "over the top" in the all-out scrap rubber drive.

The total amount gathered in Nevada County was 342,631 pounds, which was considered quite a feat inasmuch as at the start of the drive it was estimated only about 150,000 pounds could be obtained.

Before President Roosevelt extended the drive for ten days the Nevada County goal, after the 150,000 pound figure had been passed, was set at 300,000. The 300,000 pounds was obtained before the ten day extension so then the Nevada County Rubber Drive Committee set the goal at the seemingly impossible 500,000 pound figure.

Wesley Donnenwirth, chairman of the county rubber drive committee, praised the Nevada City Rotary Club for its work in the drive. Donnenwirth said also the children of the county contributed to the success of the campaign.

The children literally combed the county for the rubber and some turned in as much as 1,000 pounds.

Those turning in rubber received one cent per pound but many donated the money to worthy causes such as the Boy Scouts, Red Cross, USO and other war relief agencies.

The major oil companies conducted an informal campaign to see which could collect the most rubber, at both service stations and by truck. The Standard Oil Company led with 135,000 pounds. The Shell Oil Company collected 129,631, the Union Oil 100,000 pounds, Richfield, 42,000 pounds and Associated Oil, with Bob Evans working almost single-handed, collected 36,000 pounds.

The drive is now ended as far as the service stations and oil companies are concerned. Rubber from now on must be turned over to junk dealers.

When the final analysis is made it is probable Nevada County will rank among the highest contributors, per capita. It has been estimated that an average of in excess of 35 pounds per person was contributed in this county.

For Eleventh Straight Year Land Valuation Increase Is Reported

County Assessor John M. Hammill announces the total assessed value of property in Nevada County, including the utility roll, is $18,376,125, an increase of $214,150 over last year.

Hammill, who took office as assessor in 1931 and who will retire at the end of this year, has announced an increase in the assessed valuation of Nevada County every year, despite the fact that the lumber land in the eastern end of the county depreciated heavily in value.

The assessed value of Nevada County land as announced by Hammill is $10,265,665, which is $194,749 above last year. The tentative value of the utility roll, which has to be approved by the state board of equalization, brings the Nevada County total to $18,376,125.

The following is a tabulated statement of the figures prepared by Assessor Hammill and his deputies:

Total assessed valuation of assessment roll(less exemptions) prepared by county assessor for:

Nevada City Downs G. V. In Uso Game

The old time ball players of Nevada City proved to be in better condition than the Grass Valley oldtimers yesterday and the locals defeated the Grass Valley nine by a 16 to 12 score.

The game was played at Watt Park in Grass Valley for the benefit of the USO. Ward Sheldon, chairman of the Nevada City USO committee, said a report on the advance sale of tickets has not yet been received but it is probable the proceeds from the advance ticket sale and the tickets sold at the game produced in excess of $300. The money will be divided between Nevada City and Grass Valley to apply on the USO quotas for the two towns.

The game yesterday was a riotous affair with plenty of fun and laughs for the fans. Every old time baseball player present was given an opportunity to play and it was surprising how many had retained their old forms despite the fact they hadn't played ball for many years.

SPEAK NOW IF YOUR TREES NEED SPRAYING

Those residents whose elm trees need spraying this year should at once notify County Horticultural Commissioner L. Lageson. The spray outfit in charge of George Lambert will be here Wednesday and will service only those who have left their order with Mr. Lageson.

Visits Here Yesterday—

C. E. Everhart, formerly with the Tahoe National Forest office here, was a visitor from Reno yesterday. Mrs. Everhart and children have been here for the past couple of weeks.

Margaret Chapman Succumbs

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Chapman will be held Wednesday. This was decided after a telegram was received from Major Allen Chapman in Washington this morning, stating he would leave by plane. Whether Capt. Sargent Chapman, located at Baltimore will be able to be present is not known. The Order of Eastern Star will have charge of the services Wednesday and the Rev. Cedric Porter will officate. The hour of the services will be announced later.

Pending word from her two army officer sons stationed at Washington, D. C., funeral rites for Mrs. Margaret Organ Chapman, 67, one of Nevada City's most widely known and popular women, who died Saturday night at the Chapman home on Sacramento Street, are held in abeyance.

The body of Mrs. Chapman is at the Holmes Funeral Home here. Captain Warren Chapman of the United States Army, stationed in Southern California, and Muller Chapman, state highway engineer, have arrived in Nevada City but up until this morning no word had been received from Washington on whether the two other sons. Lieut. Sargent Chapman and Major Allen Chapman, would be able to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Chapman's death came after many years of semi-invalidism. Despite her condition, Mrs. Chapman maintained good spirits and delighted in following the careers of her four prominent sons and that of her daughter, Miss Helen Chapman, local high school teacher.

Before her condition became such that she was forced to remain in her home, Mrs. Chapman was active in local lodge circles. She was a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West and formerly was active in the Eastern Star Lodge.

She was an accomplished musician and for many years she played the organ at the Episcopal Church here. In the last World War Mrs. Chapman was county head of the Women's Food Administration.

The deceased was born in Nevada City, January 14, 1875. She was the daughter of a pioneer Nevada City family.

Her marriage to Dr. C. W. Chapman was one of the social highlights of the period. The Chapmans enjoyed a successful married life and during Mrs. Chapman's illness Dr. Chaphan constantly cared for her and saw that she was as comfortable as possible.

She is survived by her husband, five children, Allen, Sargent, Muller, Muller, Warren and Helen Chapman, six grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Hoover of Reno, Mrs. Vera Willis of Berkeley, and Mrs. Dora Roche of Mill Valley.

WILL CONTEST TRIAL WILL START HERE ON JULY 20TH

The venire for the trial of the contest of the will of the late Mrs. Mary Jefford has been drawn. The prospective jurors have been ordered to appear in the superior court here on July 20th, the date of the trial.

The will contest was filed against L. R. Jefford, administrator of Mrs. Jefford's estate, by Marion Jefford Jones, Lucille Engle and Irene Jefford Foote, daughters, who were willed only diamond rings. Jefford is a son.

The venire called for the trial include the following Nevada Township residents:

Israel O. Proctor, Leister Gregory, Joseph V. Manley, William A. Richards, Curtis R. Clark, Lawrence I. Carter, Joseph E. Huy, L. E. Noyes, Laurence Rickard, Charles H. Stevens, Gove Celio, Jeanette Orzalli, Walter J. Butz and Thomas N. Keckler.

Caught in the Riffles

We don't want to be obnoxious but accirding to the latest interpretation of the war-time Flag rules reveals the night flying of the Flag, which is done here at the Bank of America Building, Elks Club, Courthouse and City Hall, is incorrect.

There is only one place in the United States where the flying of the Flag 24 hours per day is permissible and that is on the Capitol Building in Washington, D. C.

The United States Flag Association says:

"Congress recently passed a code on the use of the Flag. These rules prescribe that ordinarily the Flag shall be flown only from sunrise to sunset for both civilian and military use.

"However, certain variations are permitted in both classes. The Flag may be flown at night for civilian use on special occasions when it is desirable to create a patriotic effect, night parades, etc.

In military use the Flag is not supposed to be flown at night except during battle and on the battle scene. Thus, General MacArthur ordered the Flag to be continuously flown at Manila while the city was under attack.'

Has Ralph E. Heidle, brother of Mrs. Clarence Walker of Gold Flat, been set free by the Japanese in exchange for a war prisoner held by the United States? The last Mrs. Walker heard of her brother was that he was being held captive at Shanghai following the taking of Wake Island, where he was employed. Then Saturday night Mrs. Walker heard he may soon arrive in the United States a free man, having been involved in a prisoner exchange between his country and Japan.

Joe Sbaffi, who had been employed on defense work at Pearl Harbor has joined the United States Army, engineers branch, in Hawaii. Joe believes he can do more for his country in the armed forces than he can on defense work. Brother John Sbaffi is now in officers training school at Fort Benning, Ga. . . Pigeons nesting under the Pine Street bridge produced a fine brood of squabs despite the continual shaking of their nesting place by travel over the bride. Alf Reynolds has been a daily observer of the progress of the pigeon family.

In addition to losing underground workers, the mining companies of the county are also losing many of their office employees. G. O. Manwaring, formerly assistant personnel officer for the Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation has left for the more lucrative position as personnel manager for the Anaconda Copper Company, Defense Chrome operations, in Columbus, Mont. Many other office workers at the Idaho-Maryland have left for other jobs.

FREE FOR ALL BATTLE STAGED AT BALL GAME

Fans, players and umpires were mixed up in a riot which occurred last night during the baseball game between the Grass Valley Miners and the Oroville Olives at Oroville. The Olives won the game by a 3 to 1 score.

King, Grass Valley catcher, was blocked off from home plate by the Oroville catcher while he attempted to score and he objected to the umpire's decision in calling him out, believing the interference entitled him to the base. Heated words soon led to a pitched battle between players on both sides. Many of the fans then joined in to make it a general free for all but it ended up with no one injured other than a few bruises and scrached knuckles.

Bill Andrews pitched the victory for the Oroville nine. Archie Campbell was on the mound for Grass Valley. Two muffed flies enabled the Olives to score the two winning runs.

In the other game played the Marysville Giants downed Chico by a 5 to 2 score.

STRIKE—IN THE AIR, ON LAND, AT SEA!

"Strike, America! Strike again and again!"

This is the cry of Eric Howard, Los Angeles author and playwright. We quote:

"America, great-hearted giant, they have mistaken your generosity for weakness, your kindness for fear!

"When the cities of Nippon were devastated by earthquake, who was the first to send help and food and supplies?

"America, giant of the great heart!

"Who always was first to befriend and succor the victims of famine, drought and pestilence, wherever they were, with no niggardly withholding and no thought of return?

"America, the generous giant!

"Who always stood for the oppressed, the weak, the suffering and the helpless?

"America, the great-hearted!

"To whom did the world look for relief from tyranny, for sympathy, for practical help, for generous and idealistic leadership?

"To America, the land of the free!

"Where did they send their students and scientists for training in the arts of peace?

"To America, the magnanimous!

"America—leader of the world, builder of democracy, home of liberty, hope of the humble, land of Washington and Lincoln and Jefferson, idols of millions throughout the world!

"America—the great, free, rich land of the west!

"Now, oh giant of the great heart, the hateful envy of pigmies is unleashed against you. They attack with the perfidy and cunning of small, twisted, mean-spirited beasts. They assail you in swarms, like disease-bearing insects.

"Strike, America! Strike again and again—strong, powerful blows, like those which won your own freedom, those which brought you unity, those which made you leader of the world!

"Giant of the western world, you fight not for yourself alone but for all men everywhere who love freedom, for all men whose eyes have seen the light you hold aloft.

"You are not alone, America! At your side are men of good will and staunch courage, lovers of freedom.

"Strike! Strike again and again—strong, powerful blows against the barbarians whose shadow darkens the future!

"Now, as never before, unleash the full power of your giant strength! Not to destroy but to defeat those who would destroy! Not to kill but that the free world may gain! Not merely to end a war, but to build a world!

"Strike again and again—in the air, on land, at sea!

"Strike that once again men may walk freely, with heads uplifted and hope in their eyes, into the future!"

LOCAL MINING CONCERN IS SUIT DEFENDANT

The California Employment Commission has filed a suit in the superior court here against the Great Northern Gold Mines, Inc., seeking $2,351,22 allegedly due as contributions under the unemployment insurance act.

The suit was filed by Attorney General Warren's office in behalf of the California Employment Commission.

CHURCHILL ACCLAIMED

News in Rhyme Over KJBS daily at 12:30

Written by Harley M. Leete, Jr.

Churchill made his stand and won:
He took the blame for what's been done.
He also gets the credit, too,
From those who share his broad-gauge view.
The Commons' vote did not overwhelm,
Those who'd put Churchill from the helm.
That brilliant man, of full good cheer,
Saved England in her hour of fear:
Took her, and on an anvil beat,
Out every thought of dread defeat.
He rallied Britain's stubborn strength,
Prepared her to fight at any length.
Churchill stood with back to wall,
Asking full confidence or none at all.
And when the vote was counted out,
There remained no vestige of a doubt.
For England's chosen this great man,
Her leaders sworn by his war plan.
He did not haste to prophesy,
Huns Egypt blitz was doomed to die.
He stood well up to all the blame,
And answered back with words of flame.
He repeated the creed, "blood, sweat and tears."
And the rafters roared to ringing cheers.
Suez has value very great:
It's precious to the British state.
It's fall would be a dreadful loss,
But let us separate the dross—
From gold—then we shall know,
However all the battles go—
Whatever losses come our way,
We're in this fight and in to stay;
Ways out, we know, are only two,
And England shares this selsame view;
To those who lose comes slavery,
To victors, fruits of bravery.
"Never say die," shall our slogan be
With Allies we give the "victory V!"

POST-WAR EUROPE WILL MOVE LEFT

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Speaking at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California, Denis W. Brogan, professor of political science at Cambridge University, England, expressed his belief that Europe will move strongly to the left after the war, and that no one can yet say what form of government will prevail.

"Germany will have five or six million soldiers back on her hands. Her people will be disillusioned and ready for another revolution. The problems existing in all the other countries will be magnified in Germany. Yet she will be less poor than her victims, in spite of having wasted her substance since 1933 preparing for this war. Morally and politically she will be worse off; economically she will be better off than other countries.

"It may become necessary to set Germany in order. Big countries are not now hard to occupy."

Discussing the post war question, "The Salvaging of Europe," Professor Brogan said that a humane, not merely a just, peace was desired. All of Europe will be short of capital goods and basic equipment. The resources of Britain, he thought, would be barely a third of those of the United States. Germany can largely undo her own damage to herself, Professor Brogan believed.

STATE HAS CASH SURPLUS IN BANK

State Controller Harry B. Riley today announced that California began its new fiscal year on July 1 with a general fund cash excess of $13,861,400.

"For the first time in nine years we have entered a fiscal year with our books in the black," Controller Riley said.

"The state is better off by $75,594,386 today than a year ago," he said. "We have wiped out the June 30 deficiency of $61,732,986 which existed last year and have substituted a cash excess."

General fund revenue in the year just closed was the greatest in the state's history, totaling $237,568,298, an increase of $42,361,404 over the previous years record yield.

Expenditures dropped from $180,208,155 in 1940-41 to $168,968,761 last year, a reduction of $11,239,394, Riley said.

The sales tax, producing an average of $355,249 per day, brought in $129,766,097 in the fiscal year just ended, an increase of $23,348,712.

Elimination of the unemployment (SRA) relief program last year resulted in a saving of $23,423,771 to the state. Increased expenditures for other functions, however, partially offset this saving, the controller explained.

Basking In The Sun At Pioneer Park Pool

For popularity you can't beat the old swimming pool during the summer time. The Nevada City Municipal pool at Pioneer Park daily teems with children—and many adults, too—seeking pleasurable exercise, as well as the ever popular sun tan. Here, basking in the sun, are three Nevada City girls who daily while away their free hours at the pool. They are left to right, Iva Foreman, Barbara Neal and Betty Jacobs. ONE KILLED, ONE INJURED IN CRASH

Earl Causon, 38, Lincoln truck driver, is recovering in the Nevada County Hospital from injuries suffered in an automobile accident on Highway 40, 14 miles west of Truckee. August Strankman, 50, Hawthorne, Nev., cook, was killed in the accident.

Deputy Coroner Harold Laity notified Coroner A. M. Holmes in Nevada City of the fatal accident.

Causon told highway patrolmen that he let Strankman drive his car while he slept. The car, according to Deputy Coroner Laity, apparently got out of control and turned over in a ditch alongside the highway.

Look over all of the appliances in your home. Check particularly those appliances you use constantly like the range, vacuum cleaner, refrigerator, washing machine and iron or ironer. Do any of these need repair or reconditioning?

You will be wise now to Duration-ize your appliances with timely repair. That means catching repairs in time before a complete breakdown occurs.

If your old equipment must be replaced—do it now. Some new appliances are still available in store stocks. Otherwise be sure to take care of what you have. Keep it in repair. Make sure it will carry-on with efficient service. It is a wartime necessity.

Your patriotic response at a time like this when every red blooded American has to show by actions as well as words his faith in the government under which we live is greatly appreciated not only by your committee but by the people of Nevada City in particular.

And we wish expressly to thank the good people of Grass Valley for their patriotic response in the wonderful showing they made in the "Big Parade" and in the other features of the celebration.

FOURTH OF JULY
GENERAL COMMITTEE,
By IRVINE SEAMON, Chairman.

SCOREKEEPERS MISCOUNT GIVES NEVADA CITY ELKS 9TO 8 WIN

The Nevada City Elks defeated the Grass Valley Elks by the score of 9 to 8 Friday night but the victory can be credited more to the scorekeeper than the good playing of the local team members.

During a rally the Grass Valley Elks staged the scorekeeper neglected to count at least one of the runs scored by the Grass Valley nine. The miscount enabled the Nevada City team to win its second straight victory in the softball league.

Leroy Hoskin did a fine job of twirling for the Nevada Cityans but the defense behind him was weak. Ten errors were made by the local Elks. Hoskin allowed six hits. Ray Alpers, Grass Valley pitcher, allowed eight hits.

Bill Jamerson really saved the game for the local Elks. With the bases loaded and one run needed to tie the score in the last frame, Art Hooper, hard hitting Grass Valley thirdbaseman, smacked a long foul fly Jamerson after a long run speared the ball out of the air to end the game. Jamerson's hitting was also a deciding factor in the Nevada City win. His base running was superb. He scored the winning run from first base on a short overthrow over second base.

LAST RITES HELD YESTERDAY FOR MINA HARTMAN

Relatives and friends paid their final respects here yesterday afternoon to Miss Mina C. Hartman, member of a pioneer Nevada City family, who died suddenly of a heart attack at noon Friday.

Rev. Cedric S. Porter of the Episcopal Church officiated at the rites, which were held at the Holmes Funeral Home here. Cremation in Sacramento followed.

The deceased was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Hartman, pioneer residents of Nevada City. She attended school here and then learned the dressmaking trade, working at that for 12 years in Sacramento before returning to Nevada City to live with her brother, the late Joseph Hartman and Mrs. Mattie Eddy, at whose home she died.

Miss Hartman leaves two sisters, Mrs. Eddy of this city and Mrs. Mabel Just of Sacramento and two brothers, Charles Hartman of Red Bluff and Al Hartman of Mountain City, Nevada.

The organization is composed of young people of the Assembly of God Church.

Tahoe Forest Users Cooperate To Prevent Fires

"No fireworks appeared on the Tahoe National Forest" was the general report of all patrolmen from the Truckee-Tahoe area to District ranger H. I. Snider. This shows a fine cooperative spirit on the part of a people who are bending all efforts to win the war and are willing to sacrifice their usual Fourth of July sport to aid in war economy and the prevention of fires.

One fire was caused July Fourth by a horseback rider smoking in the forest about three miles northwest of Brockway and was quickly controlled by Fireman Lyle Smith with his pumper truck stationed at Lake Tahoe.

More people than usual are riding horses this year and doing less driving of automobiles, thus saving tires, and it seems special instructions are needed to see that they do not smoke while riding, since they have been accustomed to smoking in cars while riding on the highway, Snider states.

The provisions of this ordinance shall not be construed as imposing a tax upon vehicles, but as a method of classification of businesses and distinguishing between those maintaining a fixed place of business in which vehicles are used, and those maintaining a business in which vehicles are used, but who do not have a fixed place of business in the City of Nevada.

SECTION 2: The City Clerk of said City of Nevada shall attest the passage of this ordinance and cause the same to be published in the Nevada City Nugget. This ordinance shall go into effect on the 15th day of July, 1942.
